1 MANAGEMENT SUMMARY

In order to address the problem of increasing teenage pregnancy rates in England, the Government launched the Teenage Pregnancy Campaign in November 2000 which has been primarily targeted at teenagers but can reach those of an older or younger age, as the advertising uses magazines, radio, ambient media, as well as PR, local activity in the field etc.

The RUThinking website was set up to act as a source of information and help on the subject along with a telephone helpline (Sexwise). As there are plans to redesign the RUThinking website in the latter half of 2003, research was required to obtain some feedback amongst site visitors to help with the modification.

The research took the form of a pop up survey among visitors to the site and was conducted in May/June 2003. For further details of the methodology see section 2.3.

Throughout the report, comparisons have been made with Virtual Surveys Ltd (VSL) Website Norms, Government Campaign Norms and results from the Adult Sexual Health (playingsafely) website visitor survey.

Profile of Site Visitors

- In terms of age, the profile of visitors to the RUThinking site was on target with around half being aged 14-16 years old.
- In terms of gender, however, the split between boys and girls was unbalanced, with girls accounting for 80% of site visitors.

Visiting behaviour

- Around 3 in 5 visitors had heard about the site via the Campaign, with radio being the best medium for raising awareness (33%), followed by press articles, adverts (unspecified), other sites and search engines.
- Over a third (36%) came to browse the site with most others looking for some form of advice or information (43%).
- The level of repeat visiting was low, but higher than that found on other Government Campaign sites and in relation to the Playingsafely website.

Website Ratings

- Overall opinion of the site was rated slightly below average along with likelihood to revisit the site.
- The main area of weakness centred on not providing the right information for the user, which led to many not finding what they were looking for.

- Spontaneous comments suggested that site content was lacking depth (particularly on details of contraception and where to obtain them, general sex, pregnancy/abortion and STIs).
- There was also a requirement for more contact with professionals and peer groups. An FAQs section was also requested by some.
- In terms of prompted future services, an online expert to answer questions was most preferred.
- At lower levels, some also wanted a condom ordering service, a chatroom and more stories/case studies.

Recommendations

1. Include more campaign activity aimed at encouraging teenage boys to visit the site
2. Improve depth of information, particularly on:
  - contraception (methods and how to obtain)
  - pregnancy & abortion
  - STIs
  - general sex information
3. Consider providing an online expert
4. Other considerations:
  - FAQs section
  - More case studies
  - Chatroom

MAIN FINDINGS

2 INTRODUCTION

2.1 Background

In order to address the problem of increasing teenage pregnancy rates in England, the Government launched the Teenage Pregnancy Campaign, in November 2000. The aims of the Strategy are to reduce conception rates among the under 18s (by 50% by 2010) and to minimise the social exclusion experienced by teenage parents.

The campaign has primarily been targeted at teenagers but can reach those of an older or younger age, as the advertising uses magazines, radio, ambient media, as well as PR, local activity in the field etc.

The RUThinking website was set up to act as a source of information and help on the subject along with a telephone helpline (Sexwise). As there are plans to redesign the RUThinking site in the latter half of 2003, research was required to obtain some feedback amongst site visitors to help with the modification.

2.2 Objectives

Specific objectives of the research were to:

- develop a user profile of individuals visiting the website
- determine reasons for visiting
- establish what visitors thought of the site and how it could be improved
- investigate requirements for future services.

2.3 Methodology

The survey was conducted online using a short pop up questionnaire which appeared to a sample of visitors after they left the homepage. A hidden link for visually impaired and a no script link were also included on the homepage and used by 12 people.

The sampling interval was set to everyone, and all those exposed to the survey were sent a one month time limited cookie in order to ensure that repeat visitors to the site were not annoyed by the survey during the fieldwork period and also to ensure that people did not complete the survey more than once.

All site visitors were eligible for the research, including under 16s. Note: COI Communications obtained special dispensation from the Market Research Society for researching minors without parental permission.

An example of the questionnaire used can be found below:

The screenshot shows a survey titled "sex: Are you thinking about it enough?" with the sub-header "Visitor survey: Your Views Matter!". The survey text states: "This summer we are going to make some changes to ruthinking.co.uk. So this is your chance to tell us what you want from the new website. The survey will take just 3-4 minutes, will be completely anonymous and is being run by an independent research agency." The first question is "1. How many times have you visited this site (including this time)?" with a dropdown menu showing "Please select". The second question is "2. And which one of these best describes why you came to this site today?" with a dropdown menu showing "Please select". Below the second question is a text input field labeled "If 'Other' selected above - specify here:". A button labeled "Click here for next question" is located below the input field. At the bottom, there is a small text block: "IMPORTANT: We make privacy a top priority - read our policy at virtuaisurveys.com/privacy Whilst completing this survey your normal Internet connection charges will apply. With this survey, you have been sent a small piece of information (a cookie) to ensure that you do not see this survey again (note - if you do see this survey again then you probably have your cookies switched off). If you have any queries about these notes, or the survey, please email ruthinking@virtuaisurveys.com or ring +44 (0)1256 767576."

Overall, the survey was shown to 3844 visitors of which 1038 answered the first question (i.e. How many times have you visited this site - including this time?). This equates to a good response rate of 27% being achieved overall.

The questionnaire itself did not force respondents to answer every question as error messages tend to irritate respondents causing them to drop out altogether, and as such, all questions were analysed on those answering them.

The survey itself was split into two parts. The first part asked people why they were visiting the site along with demographics and behavioural questions. Respondents were then asked to finish their site visit before evaluative questions of the site were asked. A mechanism within the survey was thus set up for the survey to disappear for 3-5 minutes before refreshing. At this stage of the interview, only 581 respondents returned to the survey, with most of these going on to complete it all (445). The final completion rate among those responding to the survey was 40% which is fairly average for a Government site.

For further details on the questionnaire itself, please refer to Appendix I of this report.

All fieldwork was conducted between 22nd May to 5th June 2003.

Throughout the report, comparisons have been made with Virtual Surveys Ltd (VSL) Website Norms, Government Campaign Norms and results from the Adult Sexual Health (playingsafely) website visitor survey carried out by VSL (VSL Ref 0749 / COI Ref 256452). Note: VSL Norms are based on the averages of 100+ other similar surveys conducted by Virtual Surveys across a variety of UK websites (i.e. not just government ones).

3 PROFILE OF VISITORS

3.1 Demographics

In terms of age profiles, the vast majority of visitors to the RUThinking website were aged 18 years or younger (84%). The average age was 16 years which was in line with the targeting of the Teenage Pregnancy Campaign.

Q4 How old are you?
Base: Total 967 (all answering)

Note: the average age for the Playingsafely site was 25 years old with those aged 18 and under accounting for a third of all visitors.

In terms of gender, the split between boys and girls was clearly unbalanced, with girls accounting for 80% of all site visitors. This contrasts to the average UK website and the Playingsafely website, both of which attracted approximately equal numbers of males and females. More campaign activity encouraging boys to visit the site would be needed to address this imbalance.

Q5 Are you?
Base: 901, 779 (all answering)

Analysis of age by gender indicates a difference in gender profile by age. There appears to be a small (7%) separate market of over 18 year old males visiting the site. Only one in ten of under 15 year olds visiting the site were males compared with 45% of those aged over 18.

Gender by Age

Q5 Are you?
 Base: 901,307,456,137 (all answering)

3.2 Internet Access

Details on browser used to access the site and size of pixel screens were automatically collected within the survey.

Over half of RUThinking site visitors were using Internet Explorer 6 as their browser, which was higher than that found on the average UK website, but in line with the growing trend.

In terms of screen resolution, like most Internet users, visitors to the RUThinking site were split between using 800x600 and 1024x768 pixel screens with use of larger 1024x768 pixel screens being slightly lower than average.

4.1 Site Awareness and Access

Around 3 in 5 visitors had heard about the site via the Campaign (61%). Radio was by far the best medium for raising awareness with a third claiming to have heard of the site via this media. This was followed by around a quarter each reading about the site in a newspaper or magazine, finding the site via another website or seeing an advert (unspecified) for it. All other mediums were mentioned at much lower levels.

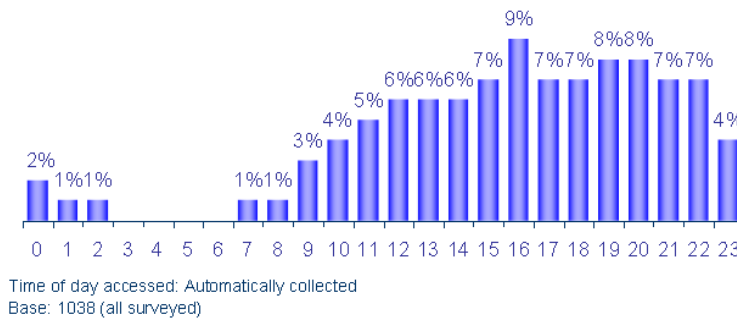

Males and those aged 15-18 were particularly likely to have heard about the site through radio (cf. 42% and 41%) and under 15s by newspaper/magazine articles (33%). Those who came to browse were particularly likely to have found the site via another website (34%). Males were also more likely to have used a search engine than females (24% vs 10% respectively).

How Heard About Site

Details on time of day when site was accessed were automatically collected during the fieldwork period. Overall, the site was accessed fairly continuously between 11am to 11pm, peaking in the late afternoon/early evening. A similar usage profile was also found for the Playingsafely website. No marked differences were found on day of week.

Time Of Day Site Accessed

4.2 Frequency of Visiting Site

The level of repeat visiting was slightly higher than that found on other Government Campaign sites and, more specifically, was slightly higher than found for the Playingsafely website.

% of Repeat Visitors

Almost 80% were visiting the RUThinking site for the first time. Of the remainder, most had visited the site 2-4 times (16%).

Number of Times Visited Site

Q1 How many times have you visited this site (including this time?)
Base: 1029 (All answering)

Analysis by subgroups indicates that repeat usage was slightly higher amongst those seeking advice/information (27%) or wanting to talk to someone in confidence (27%). Those using the Sexwise Helpline were also more likely to have visited the RUThinking site before (29%).

4.3 Reasons For Visiting

Respondents were asked which of a prompted list best described their main reasons for visiting the site today.

Just over a third of visitors came to browse the site (at a similar level to that found for the Playingsafely site) with most others looking for some form of advice or information (43%). Those looking for advice/information were more likely to be aged 15-18 (49%) and repeat visitors of the site (56%) whereas browsers were more likely to be under 15 (42%).

Those who contacted the Sexwise helpline were slightly more likely to want to speak to someone in confidence, whereas 18+ year olds were slightly more likely to be visiting for research purposes (10%).

Other spontaneous reasons cited included professionals visiting to check out the site and those looking for free condoms.

Main Reasons For Visiting Site Today

Q2 And which one of these best describes why you came to the site today?
Base: 1032 (All answering)

4.4 Other Sites Visited

Respondents were asked which other websites they had visited on a regular basis. Those most likely to be mentioned included the BBC, Bliss magazine, Hotmail and Google sites.

The sites with the most mentions have been listed below:

5 WEBSITE RATINGS

5.1 Overall Ratings

In order to provide a measure of overall website effectiveness versus other UK websites, the Virtual Surveys Index (VSI) was used. The VSI is based on Virtual Surveys unique model derived from over 100 similar website tests in the UK. It is based on the key scales from the survey, namely, overall satisfaction, likelihood of returning to the site and how much of the information users were looking for they found. It gives one number between 0 (poor) and 100 (excellent) describing the overall satisfaction with the website. The average score for a UK website is 50.

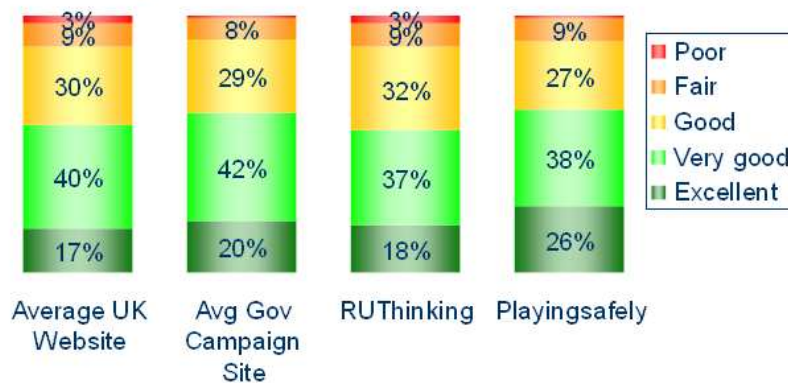

The RUThinking website obtained an index rating score of 33/100 which implies that the overall effectiveness of the site is below average compared with all UK sites. The VSI for the RUThinking site was also below that found for Playingsafely (58/100)

Virtual Surveys Index

In terms of overall opinion, the RUThinking site was rated slightly below average with 55% rating it as excellent/very good vs 62% for the average Government Campaign website and 64% for the playingsafely site.

Overall Opinion of Website

Q6 What is your overall opinion of the ruthinking.co.uk website?
Base: 581,450 (all answering)

Analysis by subgroups shows that those most positive towards the site were under 15 year olds and repeat visitors, with 59% and 60% respectively, rating the site as very good or excellent, whereas those most disappointed were over 18 (52%) and browsers (52%).

Overall Opinion of RUThinking Website Sub Group Analysis

Q12 What is your overall opinion of the ruthinking.co.uk site? Base: various Likelihood to revisit the site was lower than the Government Campaign site average, but similar to that found for Playingsafely. Strength of commitment was also weak.

Likelihood to Revisit Site

Q11 How likely are you to visit the ruthinking.co.uk website again in the future? Base: 505,428 (all answering)

Those most likely to return were those aged 15-18 (74%), those visiting for advice and information (77%) and those interested in clinic information (78%).

5.2 Attribute Ratings

Survey participants were asked to rate the site across a battery of website ratings.

The site was rated well across the majority of attributes, particularly on providing easy to understand information and on providing the right style and language for both the subject matter and the target audience.

The general appearance of the site was rated at an acceptable level, though around 16% criticised the design/layout and the use of colours.

Whilst information was generally easy to find, 17% of visitors rated this aspect negatively. Furthermore, the site was rated relatively poorly on providing information that was right for them and on being fun.

Website Ratings

Q17 Please rate the website on the following aspects:
Base: Total 504 (all answering grid)

The following chart shows the strength of the association between the individual aspects of the site and overall satisfaction. This is calculated by subtracting the mean score for each aspect amongst those who rated the site as being ‘excellent/very good’ than who rated it as ‘good/fair/poor’.

Providing information which relates to the user was the main aspect correlated with site satisfaction and improvement to this aspect is therefore most likely to increase perceptions of the site amongst all visitors. The aspect least correlated with overall opinion was, as often seen, download speed.

Correlation Between Attributes and Overall Opinion of Site

Mean difference in attributes between those rating the site as Excellent/very good and Good/Fair/Poor overall.

5.3 Information Sought

Over half felt that they had got most or all of the information they sought from the RUThinking site. This was in line with the average for a Government Campaign site, although notably, somewhat below that found for the playingsafely website.

Indeed, as many as 44% found only some or none of the information they wanted. Those interested in seeing more stories (54%) and those wanting to contact someone in person (63%) were among those most likely to have left with none of the information they wanted.

Whether Got Information Wanted

Q8 Did you get the information you wanted from the site?
 Base: 575,406 (all answering)

5.4 Spontaneous Comments About The Site

Respondents were asked for their overall impressions of the website i.e. likes, dislikes, any improvements. Both positive and negative comments were made and the main areas commented upon and issues raised have been summarised below.

Positive comments related to three main areas – ease of use, the appearance of the site and the information available:

"Easy to use and informative"

"Easy to navigate and understand"

"Clear, easy to find info quickly"

"I think it is really good and reassuring. It is well set out and the writing and pics are cool"

"I like the way it is set out. It attracts you to look around the site"

"Colourful and interesting"

"Good information on everything you would need to know, the links are very helpful"

"Good how u can find out about your local clinic"

"Good basic advice, lacking in detail a little, but very factual and I found the information I was looking for"

"It is very helpful for teaching people about sex"

Others thought that it was a "a good website especially for young teenagers!" and it was also liked for being "Friendly, informative, non - judgmental"

Many criticisms of the site related to site content, lack of depth of information and lack of advice/help:

"Facts are a little short"

"Doesn't give as much info as I wanted"

"Contains very little from what I have seen"

"Answers to a lot of the questions are very short and don't go into much detail eg info about the pill - side effects"

"Doesn't go into much detail about contraception - it really needs to be drilled into kids nowadays"

"Not enough info on different types of STDs, first time sex etc"

"Not enough personal experiences or opinions"

"Could have more on the site - more to do with actual sex and not just infections - more on other peoples experiences as well"

"Doesn't give that much help" "Doesn't give you a lot of advice"

Another area of negative comment related to the lack of contact possible through the site i.e. that it was not possible to get specific advice such as answers to personal questions via email:

"You cannot ask questions and get answers"

"I am wanting advice but I am not very good when talking about it - I would have liked to have been able to email someone"

"I thought there would be someone on the web to talk to instead of just giving out numbers"

"You can't send off for free contraception in case you are embarrassed or scared to go to a clinic or planning centre"

The appearance of the site was also disliked by some for being dull and boring and the colour also attracted some criticism:

"Could change colour every so often, to not make it look so boring"

"I don't like the burgundy background - there should be more diagrams"

"I think the pictures, background etc could be a bit more eye catching - I think it is dull"

"Too much pink" "Don't like the colours much"

A number of suggested improvements were also cited. To an extent these reflected the issues already noted above with one of the main areas of suggested improvements being a request for more information on contraception:

"Deeper info on things like the side effects of taking the pill"

"About the morning after pill - how it affects me and my periods and my sex life"

"How to use contraception"

"Alternative types of contraception"

"More in depth guides into various methods of contraception, not just facts, but details of methods of use etc. etc."

"Pictures of different kinds of condoms you can get and what a pill might look like"

"Need more on contraception - I couldn't find any info about emergency contraception"

Another key area of suggested improvement concerned where to obtain contraception – free and confidentially:

"Where can I get free contraception?"

"A way of sending off for free contraception in confidential circumstances"

"How can you get condoms free without going to see anybody"

"Free condoms - I hate going to family planning clinics and buying them"

"Where can you get free contraception when you are underage?"

"Is it legal for under 16s to buy condoms... I saw a site that said under 16s are not allowed to buy - its illegal ....please help I am confused"

Other areas of suggested improvements related to site visitors expecting and wanting advice with the ability to contact a professional, FAQs or a support group in the form of a chatroom:

"An email address to contact a professional in confidence"

"A site where we can mail a counsellor and tell about our problem"

"An agony aunt that sends emails back 2 u as soon as possible"

"Is there a link that you can ask questions and have the answers emailed to you? If there isn't there should be"

"A chatroom!"

"A message board"

"Open chat forum for people to discuss with people just like them"

"A chatroom where people can get their questions answered by a professional"

"Able to chat online to nurses"

"FAQs - a section for questions and answers"

"Questions and answers"

"I think the site should include typical questions that are asked to advisors so that others can learn from advisors answers"

A further area of improvements related to requests for more information on various aspects including sex, pregnancy, abortions and also information on homosexuality:

"What to expect when having sex"

"How sex feels"

"How to have sex"

"Info on how to use condoms, foreplay, oral sex and orgasms"

"Emotional side to sex - how it feels when the person you first had sex with ends your relationship, how you approach people afterwards if you feel dirty...."

"Symptoms/signs of being pregnant"

"How to cope with being pregnant and how to tell your family"

"How far gone u have to be b4 u can have a pregnancy test and more about rape"

"More about unplanned pregnancy and what to do if you are keeping the baby"

"The procedure of abortion"

"More about abortions and stuff"

"More about the problems you might have when going through an abortion"

"Info on homosexuality"

"More info on gay/lesbian advice groups/help lines"

More information was also requested about STIs:

"More info on STIs"

"More in depth info on STIs"

"Info on the incidence of STIs - so know how common they are"

"Diseases you can get from doing or having oral"

"How you can get rid of transmitted diseases without going to a clinic or if you have to go to a clinic what will be done"

In terms of improvements to the format of the site there were some suggestions that there should be quizzes/games (more perhaps for the younger audience):

"Quizzes to test how much you know, if people realised they don't know everything they may realise there are things they want to learn"

"Add some games to make it more fun"

And others suggested that it would be a good idea to include more case studies about real people:

"I would like to see more case studies"

"More case studies to see what life would be like"

"Lots more from other peoples point of view and actual details"

Full listings of the spontaneous comments (likes, dislikes and improvements) from the pop up survey among site visitors can be found in Appendix II.

5.5 Additional Services

Visitors were asked from a prompted list of possible new services, which they would like to see on the site.

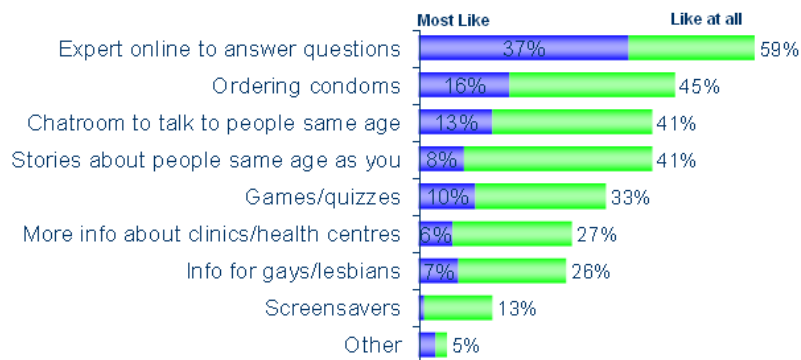

Providing an online expert was by far the most popular new service wanted by users (especially among those aged 18+). This was followed at lower levels by a condom ordering service, chat room and stories and all three of these were particularly popular amongst those under 18.

Males were also interested in a condom ordering service and repeat visitors were interested in more stories.

A third overall said they would like to see games/quizzes (especially appealing to those aged under 15s). Slightly fewer expressed interest in more information being available on clinics (but more interesting to over 18s) and also, information on gays/lesbians.

Notably, screensavers tended to generate low appeal overall.

Services Would Like to See on Site

Q13 Here are some possible new services for the ruthinking website. Which of these would you like to see included on the new site, which second and which third?
Base: 445 (All answering)

Respondents were also asked what one question they would ask an online expert if one were available on the site. Types of question were wide ranging and included:

Can you get pregnant if you haven't had sex? Can you get pregnant even if there was no penetration? How many ways can you make a girl pregnant?

Am I a bad person if I am having sex under age but am in love and in a steady relationship? Am I a slag?

How do people have sex? What happens during sex? Does it hurt the first time you have sex? Does it hurt the 2nd time you have sex?

How do I know if I am ready for sex? How are you meant to feel after the first time you have sex?

How can I combat peer pressure without feeling isolated from my friends?

I'm shy and scared to have sex, can you help me?

I'm worried I might be a lesbian, what should I do?

How effective is the pill? How effective is the use of the morning after pill?

Can under 16s legally buy condoms? How do I go to a family planning clinic? I don't know what to do or say

What are the different types of pill and what makes them different ie side affects. What are the different types of pill all about?

How far gone do you have to be before u can have a pregnancy test?

I am pregnant and want an abortion, what should I do?

I've been having unprotected sex and I'm in pain - what could it be? What are the signs if you have a sexual disease? What diseases can you get from oral sex?

How to get rid of certain transmitted diseases

I think I could have an STI but I am too scared to get it checked out, what should I do?

Q7 Impressions of website

I thought it was a bit simplistic for someone of my age (17) but probably quite good for someone younger

not enough information dull

think it is a very good website and is easy to understand and holds a lot of answers that teenagers would like to know

"a bit more info

Add some games to make more fun.

all the useful information

"amount of information given

quality of information

local clinics"

brill!!!

brilliant! did not say "don't have sex" but gave advice on staying safe certain parts of this website I am being denied access to because of our school. and I don't have the internet at home.

Clear layout

Clear, easy to find info quickly.

colourful and interesting

contains very little from what I have seen

could change the colour every so often, to not make it look so boring

could have more topics on the basic facts for example pregnancy, not just abortions

Could include more information about sex. I like the fact that there are so many links

"COZ IT TELL U ABOUT SEX MORE

AND IT TELL U WHAT MEAN HAVEING THE PILL "

crap

Doesn't supply sufficient confidential advice and comfort towards children under the legal sex age. IE:

retrieving contraception is discretion and privacy. You have to go and see someone about it, where they may not supply it but may well call parents/law office and child will be in trouble.

don't give that much help

don't give you a lot of advice

"doesn't have the stuff I need 2 no!

more info"

Easy access to information but not enough personal experiences or opinions

Easy to navigate and understand

easy to use and informative

Easy to use, informative.

easier to get in to

Enough info for ppl who want to have sex but no emotional info about sex...well so far anyway

erm could ask you if u had any questions

everything really it is good for boys or girls

facts were good

fine

First time sex, STI, contraception, helpline part, different websites you can visit for other information, myths. Didn't really like the soap updates part.

for younger people you need to put things into simpler terms.

friendly, informative, non-judgemental

"fucking c

rap"

Full of the information that anyone needs. Easy to find and very reassuring.

give good advice, facts and information gives good advice but you cannot ask questions and get answers

gives relevant information

gives straight facts

good

good

good

good basic advice, lacking in detail a little, but very factual and I found the information I was looking for.

good clear information, very straight forward. there needs to be a bit more information on it tho. But I think telling us how to deal with the situations are a good idea instead of every 1 telling us what not to do (which is ok upto a certain age say 15) tell us how to do things because most people are doing underage and I don't think it's helping us to understand sex if we get the 'don't do this' talk every time.

"Good design that will appeal to most teenagers.

The information is presented in a short and very concise way."

good for basic information but needs extrapolating in some parts or more links to other sites for more detail

good how u can find out about ur local clinic

good info

good info for teens on having sex

Good information on everything you would need to know, the links are very helpful. This site is easy to use.

good private info.

good so far, a lot of information, very helpful

have more real stories.

helpful advice about services in my area. The case study was interesting but it would be better if you had a variety of studies.

home page not clear enough need to say what is included in the titles

I like the way it is set out and it attracts you to look around the site. It is easy to use.

I am wanting advice but I'm not very good when talking about it I would like to have been able to email someone.

I am worried about chlamydia, but can only find out about gonorrhoea.

I didn't really like the layout

I do think that this web site is very good for help and information, but I think the pictures, background etc could be a bit more eye catching, I think it's a bit dull.

I don't like the bergandy background! I think you should have more diagrams of how to do things.

I felt that in the abortion subject you didn't say much about how it will affect you emotionally and I think this is a big deal from past experiences

I find it helpful

I think the site is good but a bit boring and there isn't many pages I think you should add more pages and I think you should do more on real life stories to show ppl it does actually happen and I think you should do something on rape and have some fun pages too like quizzes games and things and I think you should answer this question: when can you get a pregnancy test?

I found it hard to find what I was looking for

I found the information very useful, easy to understand and the information is presented in a professional but friendly way.

I found this web site easy to use and very helpful

I have no dislikes of the website

I just thought it would be different to how it is

I know it'll go a long way to help teenage girls with the need for information to safeguard their health.

I like all the information and facts e.t.c

I like every thing about it

I like how it tells of things in great details!

I like how it tells you about local help

I like it because it tells you what you need to know.

"I like it coz it gives some very good advice about sex & things like that"

I like it.....a lot. It's a place where teenagers can go to find out about stuff, especially when they have a problem

I like that the facts are clearly presented but I think it is too formal

I like the advice

I like the advice but there are now pictures about porn

i like the fact that your helping young teens
i like the fact that it gives you lots of information and gives you most of the answers to your questions.
however when i typed my question in it said it wouldn't be possible to send me a feed back (whats the point in having it if it doesnt send you your answer) overall this is a great site and i will be back it ahs so much info on it. Its good that there is a good site that dose know whats really going on with under 18's
i like the layout and the way it has beenn written
i like the sex 4 the 1st time best i like the site, and it advises what teenage girls should do
I like the way everthing is seperated so you can choose what you want to read about. I dislike when clicking on the next fact it takes ages to come up.
i like the way it explains to you.
i like the way it set out
i like the way it tells you the important things of sex
I like the way the website explains all possible ways in doing something i like the website
i like the website because it gives you information about things you dont know and want help with
"i like the website because it is full of information that is helpful i have no dislikes about the site. There is no improvements that i wouldchange because it s set out in a good way so that it is easy to undestand "
i like the whey its all set out and i don't dislike any of it and it is useful
I LIKE THIS WEBSITE
I like this website because it has a lot of facts on all the stuff that I was looking for. They only thing that I think needs to be improved is the design.
i like this website. it helped me with my problem
i liked everything that i checked.
i liked the case studys on teenagers dealing with pregnancy and the information on STI
I liked the funky pictures!!
i liked the protection bit!
I really think the help/advice/information is brilliant, if i ever find myself in a bad situation sex related of course im sure this site will help and im going to send it to all my friends to help them to - thanks
i realy like the way it is set out so its easy to navigate i thik they could have more on the site. more to do with actual sex and not just infections nd diseases. maybe what other people experience as well..
i think it could do with some specific information about each contraceptive such as where u can get it from ect..
i think it good you can find places in your area for thing such as condoms but i think you should have more information on when you get pregant and if you get an STD
i think it great it reallys helps you
i think it is a good informative website.
I think it is a great way to get out the nessisary information that teens now days are looking over so quickly. Many of us have made decisions we regret verry much so even if it didnt lead to std's or pregnancy. Although we are lucky most still have gotten hirt emotionally.
i think it is good
i think it is good but i think u maybe should put a sex dictionary on the site for people that hear friends talking slang and dont have a clue what it means but overall it is a pretty good website
i think it is good for under 18's, but i am 18 and i am aware of alot of information you already provide but i do think that your answers to alot of the questions are very shot and dont go into much detail; for eg. information about the pill, i personaly would like to know a lot more about the side effects and more. I think it is really good and reassuring. It is well set out and the writing and pics are cool. I think there is plenty of information on the site becasue it includes emotional and physioical side instead of just the physical
I think it is very good and it can help a lot of different types of people
i think it is very good for someone who dont feel confotable talkin to people i think it is very gud this website cuz it has alot of gud info on it about sex!Excellent!
I think it is very helpful to teens and young parents.
I think it provides the important information but is a bit small.

i think it shud give more information about the first time
I think it was very helpful and informative as well as friendly towards people who could be in a difficult situation.
i think its a good site and helps u if u r worried about anything
i think its a good website especially for young teenager!
i think its a helpful site
i think its good
i think its good and confidential which i find compforting
i think its good but should have some more contacts
i think its good if you need to know some facts and where to find things if you need more information or if ur scared about talking to some1 face 2 face
I think it's just right but should have online advisors because I feel shy to ring them.
i think its really good because it shows facts and u r able to ask questions about problems. it is very good if u need help. i would definitely recommend it.
i think its very good especialy if you need to know the vital info about sex
I think more infomation on what is envolved in sex and infomation on pregancy.
i think that it is really gud nd has gud info on it!
I think that the site is excellent for giving brief yet important advice on all apsects of sex and sexual problems/ideas.. However i think an improvment could be made by using detailed information links rather than just a brief outline
I Think That The Website Is Good But It Needs A Bit More Information On Sex And How To Make It Safer.
i think that this site is very good,the way it puts advice out for teenagers and even older people.
i think that this website has all the information young people need to know about.
i think that this website has good informatiion 4 every1
I think that this website is very good because it tells you alot about all you need to know about sex. The one bad thing is that you can't send off for free contraception in case you are to embarassed or scared to go to a clinic or plannig centre.
i think that you could explain about the infections in detail
I think that you should show more about how you have sex and exactly how to put a condom on including pictures.
i think the fact that you have given other websites for young people like me to browse is good and i also think its brilliant that you have given the straight facts on STI/STD, abortion and pregnancy.
i think the site is easy to access
I think the site is great though should have more content, and the fact are a little short.
I think there should be more statistics about teenage sex
i think there should be more stuff like emotional stuff and it's good because it tells you a lot. but it should be advertised me
I think this is a helpful website, but people no the basic stuff this site shows, there should be more information than what their is. Their is a lot already but people no that, just a bit more information in a big varied way would be more helpful than it already is.
I think this is a very good website as it can help many people from maing the wrong mistakes and everything is explained properly.
I think this is a well informed website designed to reassure people about their general wellbeing. It is colourful and keeps me intrested. However, I think there should be more information on before and after the first time people have sex-ie some girls experience bleeding during their first time. More info is needed on things like what to do if a boy's penis splits etc.
i think this site is usefull
i think this site is very good, quite educational for younger people than myself, and good for advice.
i think this website is a very good idea because you can not always get through on the helpline!! it provides good information! Well done
I think this website is brilliant because it's a place for people to ask questions and find out things about sex
i think this website is really good it gives you the truth about what really happens out there
I think this website is very helpful and can help a lot of people in different ways.

"i think u should tell people what sex is actually like as most people dont find out it is quite painfull until they do it."

i think you could probably give more information and let people post their views on the website and also b able 2 get contraception sent 2 u.

i think you need to include more options for the 'first time sex' part. there are many questions people may have that are left unanswered as not all parts of sex are covered.

i think you should always have someone on here to talk to/e-mail in an emergancy or something along those lines

i think you should be able to have live chat with a representative of this site

i think you should be able to send emails and get responses instead of on the phone

i think you should have a page were u can talk to helpers bout ur problems on line

i think you should have a thing where on the sexually transmitted infections, people pick symptoms etc from a list and it tells what desiese they MITE have

i think you should have some sort of search engine so that people can put in key questions and the typical questions come up.

i thinks its oright but u havnt answered our q yet

i thinkthsi website isvery helpful

i thought there would be somebody on the web site to talk to instead of just giving out numbers.

I wanted to find out information about the reliability of some methods of contraception without ringing a helpline but didnt find it.

i was asking a question and you went off. so how can you you say ok

i would give more facts to people

i would like to be able to ask a question and have it answered fully! like the helpline

i would like to be able to ask questions

i would like to be able to talk to someone online live and know dat the number if i call it wouldnt be able to be traced at all

I would like to see more pictures and a chatroom where you can chat to a doctor for example in confindence or others going through what you are

if rhe person is goin 2 have sex nomatter what u could give them pointers on how 2 have sex

"If you feel the need to change things then it's up to you but so far so ggod.I like this site because i picked things i didn't know , which was exciting for someone who didn't have a clue bout it.

Ilike it because itgives out useful information

I'm extremely impressed with the FACTS. More facts should be on the site. Very intresting, and informative.

im looking for a search engine to directly find what i want, but you dont have 1. You could also direct people to other related sites.

improvement, more talking about people about to have sex and what could happen like impotence or things that might make sex worse if it isnt done properly. Thank you! x

in

including more information, especially about the build up to sex, such as oral sex and things which are sexually related. as thats why i came onto the site.

Info on the web

informative but could have more facts on the different types of sti's

it could be made better with things like quizzes or a case study game where you are the girl or boy and you have different senarios and have to chose wheather to wait and have sex when you are ready or do it when you are durnk etc.i also would like to a see a page where you can print off posters about the website that i can stick up at school and local youth centre the adverts in bliss magazine with the girl and boy in the club wandering if they should have sex or take drugs was a good one. you could also have quizzes where questions are asked about sex topics and see how much people really know and then tell us which pages on the website or other links to go to look up and read on the parts we didnt do so well on.

it could have more of a range of information for different types of age and thing like that, but as this is my first time on the website it all new to me.

It didnt give as much info as i wanted

it doesn,t really give as much information as you need but on the other hand its a good web site

IT doesn't explain what the contraceptives mean/do. eg. what does IUS stand for? How does it work?

it doesn't have lots of information about sex and it should.

It doesn't really help me get laid!

IT GIVES GOOD ADVICE TO YOUNG PEOPLE ITS SOME WHERE YOU CAN FIND OUT INFORMATION INSTEAD OF BEING FACE TO FACE ASKING SOME ONE QUESTIONS COZ IT CAN BE INTERESTING

it gives you loads of info if you haven't and had had sex

It good

it had given me confidence about my sex life and i found out what i should do

It has a lot of useful information on a lot of subjects involving sex for young people like myself, therefore i think this site is very helpful but may need a page where the reader can ask questions to be answered on the internet.

it has good links and stuff and is a good way to find info.

It hasn't got enough information about SEX!

it hasn't helped me to think about whether i want to have sex or not.

it helps people whose parents haven't told them a lot about sex

It is a good site to help those in a mood and want information.

It is a very good website which is very helpful

It is a very useful and helpful easy to use service.

it is boring

it is good for finding info but i think it should have more detail and explore more aspects like feelings and how to deal with them.

It is good it gives you quite a lot of info on where to get advice and stuff I didn't even know my local doctors had a family planning clinic up the top floor I will now go there instead of traveling into the town for free condoms and stuff thank you

It is good, but perhaps an anonymous problem page or something would help for people to see others are in their situation.

it is needed to be updated more on the information given i.e the stories by people and the soap stories as well but overall it is good.

It is quite helpful

it is really good

It is the best site in the world for info on sex it has helped me understand it and what it would do to me at my age

it is very good and useful for information

it is very helpful

it is very helpful

it is very helpful

it is very helpful for teaching people about sex

it is very simple

it lets people understand about STIs

it needs a lot more depth.

it needs more info and less helplines as some people might be embarrassed to phone them

it needs more info on girlie stuff

it needs more information on oral sex, because people need to know, not just about full on sex.

it ok it gives you quite a bit of help

it really know what it's all about and how to put the message across

it should have pictures for teens to see and should give directions in the area some one is going to so they can find it

it straight facts with really life stories its good

"it sucked

It tells me good advice.

it tells people loads about sex

It uses easy to understand language and everything is explained clearly and care

It was boring

It was easy to see everything. it was all laid out well.

It was helpful with lots of information and facts that I wasn't aware of before

it was very good and gives you lots of information

It was very informative and very easy to navigat. Good job I found the site very helpful.
It would be better if you had a chat room for teens to talk together about sex and also help each other out.
its a bit boring
its a good website to get infomation for all kinds of topics
Its a really good way to find out info bout sex n all that, if u wana do it confidentialy n in ur own time.
its alrite but could give a bit more information
its brilliant
its full of the most typical questions you would want to ask, and it is full of info on every aspect of sex
its good and easy 2 understand its good but a chat area with professionals would be usefull as i dont wanna phone it's good but, the overall look is quite confusing a plain web page would mean that it would be easier to look around
its good it gives good information
Its got some great stuff on here, and if you wanna add a link for advice on anything for teenagers then the address is <http://www.teenmentors.org>
its helpful
it's helpful but i dont think you can ask and get a personal answer - they have this at brook.org.uk
its interesting
its interesting and i dont feel embarrassed by viewing it infact i feel slightly comforted
its is good
its nice
its ok
its ok
its ok
its ok
its ok
its ok
its ok
its ok but a bit embarrassing for parents to see its ok but i think there could be more info and more topics covered like for people that may want to have sex/foreplay etc but don't know how/what to do and want advice!
its ok, its a bit boring but it tells you alot
its okay
its quite easy to use but there could b a message board or chat room for people who need to talk about sex worries or discuss any questions.
its really good
its short which is good because it gets straight to the point
Its very clear, but I felt it was a bit brief in some areas
"its very good and it gives you ood advice and it helps you to unrstand things about what your planning
Its very good for people who have got mager probs and its somthing u now u can go 2 if u need a question solved its great for all ages who need help and will know a lot more once they have seen wats on this site for them!!
its very good, you dont need to change a thing.
its very good. I like the way you have the questions that people will be asking as your headings then answering them.
It's very helpful and lets you know the things you need to know its very informative but still needs to have more information like other types of sex (oral),body worries etc.
lack of content, but some good advice
like
like design of it.
like it all but i think it need like a message board where u can talk to a nurse online for help.
"like most of it"
"like that way its presented.and the way you`ve put other contacts in too.i think you could make it better;by putting in pictures."
like the colour scheme
like the down-to-earth facts, local section

Links aren't very specific...eg contraception should be a straight up link!!

Lots o information was given

lots of helpful information

lots of information on the site. Even i was intregged as to look at the hyperlink titled "what are the best condoms" very good site maybe a chatroom where you can talk to people on the website.

maybe ya could have a public message board where ppl could help each other maybe you could introduce some sort of problem page where website visitors could read about other peoples problems.

more about contreception

more about the specific types of contraception, eg the injection kind.

more info

more info on problems about how 2 do things

more information for pregant teenages

more information on laws and regulations about age of consent etc also infomation about other stuff (ie oral sex fingerin and tossing off etc!!!) not JUSTsexual intercourse more information about how to use contraception could be provided.

more local information on my area newcastle

more pics

more questionnaires to sole problems or quiries!

more true stories

my likes is when you come on to the website the front page.

need to list other STI's

Needs more 'facts'

Needs slightly more in depth on some areas. for example names of the pill. and what do you say whne you go to a family planning clinic (as i've been once but never made it all the way because all the staff just looked at me weird it was horrible like they didnt care + were discusted!)I just think teenagers need 2 know more needs to be set out better, so it's easier to access certain things needs to give advice on how to do things with a girl.

NO IMPROVEMENTS, JUST A GREAT WEBSITE PACKED OF IMPORTANT INFOMATION, GREAT FOR PEOPLE WHO NEED QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

no improvements, just right!

no not really it could use more info .

None

not alot of options,mayby include detailed info on abortions and how it is done,and exact details of everything,

Not as much information as other sites.

not enough info

not enough information

not enough information on what the diseases actually are and you are using language what young people now adays do not understand

Not got enough info on differnt types of stds.first time sex etc.

not much info

not much info

not much on it

not much specific information on individual STI's. No opinions or comments from teenagers on the site.

I like the visitor survey and information on contraception, although more could be provided on specific types- especially ones that don't get mentioned as much like the coil and contraceptive injections.Good

links to other support phonelines etc

not sure

Not the best! you need an online agony aunt or a chatroom!
nothin much here
nothing
nothing
nothing really
ok
ok
ok but it does'nt go into much detail about contraception it really needs to be drilled into kids nower days
ok but not very nice to look at overall it works well
people should be able to type there worries in they might be too shy to phone Perfect
pictures?
plain but informative.
postcode search finds things miles away
really informative
seems fine so far
seems to have a lot of info on everything,,, v impressed sex
should advise on positions haha!
show frequently asked questions
sorry it's my 1st time & i can't take an impression for the 1st time the colour is slighly strange, hard on the eyes. needs to be more subheadings. rather than just the six.
The facts could be a little more in detail.
The layout is good and simple to use, and the information given is clear and to the point.
The layout is very good but it needs loads more information.
The local help section is very informative & helpful.
the site is useful and i'm sure comforting to others. I like the laid back attitude and understanding approach.
The site is very helpful and has a lot of information!
The site seemed to be more concerned about sex itself and not so much with your body.
the thing about the appointments kept sayin i was doin sumtin rong
the way you show the closest centres where we can get free confidential advice
The website could do with a better more attractive design
The website was very well put together, but i don't like the colors much.
the websites great its up to date and answered all my questions
the whole site is excellent.
there are lots of important facts on this site but there should be a chatroom with experienced youths and non experienced, where people might be able to understand the risks when spoken to someone around their own age, who have experienced these terrible situations.
There could be more info on more general topics
There didn't see much there it would be better if on the first page it had a list of all the links and pages from that site because otherwise it takes forever to find something. i also think there should be a search box aswell
There isn't a lot there. Add some more information if fact a lot more it's all very interesting so tell us more. Some of the stuff is very obviouse even if there may be people out there who believe the myths add something for those who don't to browse through.
there isn't a section where u can ask questions and there are onlya few facts!!! wat about all the other unanswered questions?? suppose ppl don't want 2 talk on da phone 2 somone.... then wat? there should be an online ocunsellor available, or an agony aunt that ppl can email or post any queries to. the local clinics should have little maps next to them or at least instruction of how ot get there. Nearest tube and busses ect.
There wasn't enough in-depth information about things
theres not amough infomation for people who just want to know infomation for school
"think their needs to be more general advice about sex and the body and stuff like that."

this is a good site but could have more help on other things like pregnancy this website can help people who are scared og have swx that is why this site is very good!!
This website gave me a lot more to think about than i thought i would have to, but that is a good thing because i have learned more about sex so i am aware of the problems that i can have even though i am under age. if this website was not available to younger people then there would surely be a lot of under aged people with babies that they couldnt take care of. i am grateful for the advice you gave me.
thank you Brook.
this websiter isnt very clear with how to use the site there should be a page talking bout all the subjects
mentioned as some people are too embarrassed to go to a place or speak on the Thought it was all very useful.
"to know how to ask a question on-line "
too many graphics - takes ages to load
too much pink
um i think that this website is good but as a little thing you could have is a email bit where people can just email you just to say anything that they are proud of or just something to say coz i'm sure people are encouring girls and boys to not have sex well if you let people say that they resisted sex or they arent gonna have sex before marriage, people find there is more of a point to do something if they can tell people about it.
very helpful
Very approachable. Not judging! GOOD!
very clear and precise. Young people friendly.Easy to use.
very factual and impressive
very good a lot of information
very good, covers all aspects, not too over the top but not lacking detail
Very good, helpful information, clearly set out very helpful, settled the worry as i could not fins information like this from other websites
very helpfull for me
very imformative
very informative
VERY INFORMATIVE . COULD BE A GREAT HELP IF I HAD A PROBLEM I WOULD COME HERE
Very informative with lots of useful information presented in a friendly and helpful way.
very poor no porn
very useful
very well presented however the coulors are not very easy on the eye. seems very formal.
was expecting more.
was really helpful, sepecially 4 more knowledge without haveing to tlk to some one in person wel i came ont his site 2 c if it cud answer a question that i needed 2 no. but it didn't it shud have a page were u can ask question then some one replying 2 you. but its ok i soppose well detailed
well i like it because it is helpful its better if people know about these things
Well, it was excellent, but why don't you make a forum so that people don't have to call, but simply leave a message here on Internet and then check the answer?? I think it would be great ! !
where u can get free comdoms from
You should improve the colours to make it look more attractive to kids.

Q9 Additional Information would like to see provided

I came to the site by accident
i dont think i was given enough time to look through the site fully enough. i think it would be helpful if you had an address that people could write to, instead of talkin face to face or over the phone?
otherwise i think this site is very good for people my age etc....

i like to see people who have struggled with a decease to talk on the website so they can make people more aware

i need to find out how to treat it!

I needed information on size of condoms but cud not find any information on this.

i needed somebody to talk to so hopefully you may be able to arrange this for the site in the future.

i reckon its gud as it is

I think it would help if it had some about rape and how to cope with that, other than that i think the site is ace

I think that many of the topics covered (such as STI section) are not detailed enough.. i believe that they could be made slightly more copmrehensive.

I think the site should include my typically questions, that are asked to the advisers. So that others can learn from advisers answer.

I think their should be a message box u can go on to and ask a problem about sex and relationships and an answer can come up automaticaly. Also i think diagrams would be useful, like if people didnt no what a condom or the pill etc looked like they could see what to look out for!

I think there should be more detailed information about contraception

I think there should be more information on before and after the first time people have sex-ie some girls experience bleeding during their first time. More info is needed on things like what to do if a boy's penis splits etc.

I think there should be more information on what people can to when explaoring themselves without getting hurt

I think there should be more statistics about teenage sex

I think there's enough information on here

i think these questions are useful;does sex hurt? wot does it feel like? do you bleed when you hav sex? where can u do it apart from a bed?

I think you should have an advice senter; where teen can ask for advice on their own situations. Maybe someone willing to help them in their decisions...that was generally what i was looking for when i came to this web site.

i want to see porn on it

I was looking for more specific information on a certain kind of "thing." I think the FAQ are very useful (the ones that are there) but there should be many more there is a lot greater depth like "Does it hurt..." and "what is the feeling like..." just questions that help people understand sex more i think i was specifically looking for the incidence of STI's, so i know how common they were

i would have liked to find out a bit more information on abortions and stuff. it may be a little upseting for girls who have had abortions in the past. but it would be helpful for it to be in detail.

i would lik to c sum statictics

I would like info on HOW to have sex (esp. safe sex). and the tshirts

I would like there to be more information on periods and masturbation. I also think there should be games too

i would like to be able to talk 2 some 1 online

I would like to see a page for the viewers to ask questions which would be answered on the new site.

i would like to see more about contreception eg how they are used properly and more real life stories coz they are good to getr infomation off aswell.

I would like to see more Case Studies, like the one on pregnancy with Emma and Aimee

I would like to see more information about STI's and maybe more information about a person's options if they are pregnant and doesn't know what to do about it

i would like to see more information on sex.

I would like to see more on contraception

i would like to see som esupport on teh fact that maybe at the age of 15 or whatever u may feel ready to have sex u might have fallen in love wid someone and feel ready

i would like to see some thing that u could go to and write to somone and ask them about personal questions either if its about your boyfriend or your self and body!!

I would like to see thing about condoms, tampons/sanitary towels and games for 9-12 year olds that are doing sex education for the first time and learning what happens during sex and what can happen after sex.

id like to see more information from ppl taht ave been though problems n say wot they did

YOU? IF THERE ISN'T THERE SHU B!!!!

It could give you more first hand information- different peoples opinions.
it should be easier to find your way around it would be even better if u could right your problems on this site or talk to someone on here.
its got it all
iwould have like more dtails in the facts section
Just easier to navigate...things are there, but need to be easier to find!

just more about sex i mean loads!
just more about the ways of certain body parts and functions
just more detailed information and more answer, question type of things just stuff like quizzes - are you ready 4 sex stuff like that just the dictionary and maybe storys from teens that have got pregnant and regreted so it would put

just the same really and anything else u think is convenient Just what I wrote up above. Explain what the contraceptives are, what they do, how they work, and if they are an abbreviated term, please explain what the letter's stand for.
lots more from other peoples point of view and actual detail
lots more info and maybe some problem pages
mabe some stuff for teens, 12+ bout boys, girls etc...
masturbation
maybe more prices on how much things are and more information on abortions.
maybe online help
maybe some more information on sti's?

More about sexually transmitted diseases. I didn't know what half of them were til I got one.And for the ones that aren't having sex it might make them realise how important it is to use condoms more about STI's and questions and answers would be good on all different things concerning sex.

The right pill the female who has got medical condition for example like epilepsy, asthma diabetes, high blood pressure etc... But I would like it if you put long list down if possible on the new site of other kinds of medical conditions so they would know what pill to take.

the same information but more.

there could be more information about experimentation and information about oral sex because many teens dont often have funn on sex straight away, they experiment with blow jobs and other things, no websites offer that information and it would be very useful, and knowing the full facts would be reassuring

There should be info on everything like where to get contraception and sex help

this is great the way it is! :)

u could have a chatroom where people can get there questions answered by a professional. there could more pictures and colour and maybe quizzes and weekly surveys

"Wasn't after any information however if i find im faced with something i dont know i will return.

(I have only just found out about tss, never heard of it b4, good information)"

Q15 Other comments about site or survey

All it needs is an expert to talk to and a chat room, apart from that it's brilliant an excellent idea. I wish there was something like this when I was younger.

clearly

covers most topics, helpful

Do some things for younger people who haven't had a good sex education or don't know much. Also add some more facts and true stories.

don't like the background. more diagrams. I WANT A CONDOM!

excellent

excellent service, keep it going!

free condoms would help more!

good interesting website, quite detailed. the survey was good and not full of the usual wittering on.

good to have the chatroom, stories about people the same age

good website. be better if it was more interactive

good website, very helpful

good, but perhaps could try to appeal more to young people?!?!?

GREAT JOB

great site

have some proper diagrams, not just drawings or cartoons of where certain things are like the clitoris is, coz I have absolutely no idea!

I am glad you created this website because all those people really needed your help!

I appreciate that we can be reassured there are people who care and want to help!

I don't have a clue!

I DON'T KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN

I enjoyed visiting the website the info is useful and precise.

I expected it to be more informative.

I hope that you'll make it even better !! But, anyway, it rocks !

I love it!!

I mostly thought this site was very educational rather than fun. mostly interesting things were on this site, and hope to visit back some time in the future!

I think it should be a bit more interesting and funky

I think it was a great idea too carry out this survey

I think that this website is totally great and I would most definitely come and visit it again. I think it is the most best website ever especially for children about 12 or 13 let's say about my age coz I am 12 when they start to worry about things.

I think the site needs improving but it's a great idea and is probably useful for people who need info

I think the survey is very good and interesting and so is the website

I think the survey was very good and allows me to say what I want to see on the website and that's wicked because I know the information that I want is there for me when I need it... WELL DONE!

I think this an excellent website. Well done!

I think this survey is good because if you listen to our comments and what we would like to be added to this website I think a lot more people would visit and it would help out a lot more people.

I think this website is excellent.

I want a t-shirt!!

I would make it more fun

If I had a fourth point (or joint third as I liked it) above it would be ordering condoms online (would they be from the family planning clinic and so be free?) something to look into perhaps a fantastic link for those perhaps too ashamed or afraid to visit the family planning clinic and so gets everything on the web, the advice on the site, any questions ask the online help or email perhaps and condoms and extra reading material and leaflets through the post.

I'm glad I found this site, it has been a help and I know I can come back

It is shit

it needs a lot more detail.

It needs to have more on it so people are more interested in it.

it should definitely have people you can talk to, as this would be very very useful!!!

it should go into more detail

it should properly be advertised more so people out there know what to do. because the schools don't really help them. maybe a video should be made, leaflets for school kids who need this most.

It was an okay website, but it wasn't really what I was looking for, thanks anyway

it was pretty good, I visited the site to get info on emergency contraception. it told me how it works and where to get it but I wanted to know the cost of it (if any e.g. over the counter) and what sort of questions I'd be asked.

It would help me and other teens a lot if there was a question box and your question got answered automatically or if you wait a few minutes while your question is getting answered

its a bit boring

its a brilliant site

its a good site that helps thousands of people everyday

its a nice site

its a really good site

it's a useful site for people my age to check and see, especially if they are shy about sex with parents etc

it's great to see you are thinking about what the people who come here want

its overall very good

its very good for people who don't know where clinics are and you can find out without giving too much information so you feel like your comments are all kept in confidence

It's very good with lots of information.

It's very helpful

Its wank

keep the site, keep the surveys and its really helpful and explains the risks. thanks!

keep up the good work!

looking forward to accessing this site again with a view to see what my own teenagers think about it needs more colour and more age information but its ok I guess

no all I would like to do is congratulate the person that made it and say that its the best website on sex I've ever visited

no comment

no I think that is all really. thank you very much for allowing me to have my say.

no thank you I've said what I've wanted to say and done with it

no. just get an online expert, chatroom and a condom orderline. thank you.

please update regularly :-)

pretty good.

Quizzes that give you advice depending on your answer score flow chart quizzes agony aunt the site would be great

room for improvement

ruthinking.co.uk is a very useful site to find out information on sex, I don't know what I would have done without it as I am too shy to talk to anyone about it. Thank You.

see you soon

should not have any more survey after this one they are very time consuming
